

I CLAIM:

1. A sock having a body, the sock comprising first and second openings positioned along the body of the sock, the openings being sized sufficiently to allow a
5 second sock to be threaded through the openings and retained to the sock thereby.
2. The sock of claim 1 where the openings are spaced apart parallel slits.
3. The sock of claim 1 comprising material behind the opening such that a 10 wearer's leg is not viewable through the openings while the sock is being worn.
4. A sock comprising:
a body;
a channel formed in the body, the channel being configured to receive and retain a 15 portion of a second sock.
5. The sock of claim 4 where the channel is formed of two layers of material.
6. The sock of claim 4 where the channel is formed by attaching a swatch to 20 the body of the sock.

7. The sock of claim 6 where the swatch is attached to the outside of the sock.

8. The sock of claim 6 where the swatch is attached to the inside of the sock.

5 9. The sock of claim 8 where the sock body includes first and second openings through which the second sock is able to access the channel.